

Information about Childhood Experience of Care and Abuse (CECA) materials & services

This flyer gives details of CECA training courses and how to order printed interview packs required for use of the CECA in practice context. It also describes follow-up services available for the effective and reliable use of the CECA interview for evidence-based assessment.

Training in the CECA

2-day training courses are held twice a year in central London. The cost is £350. These are relevant for researchers and practitioners in psychological and forensic services as well as practitioners working with children and families. Details of courses are given on the website www.cecainterview.com

Consultancy on accurate scoring of the CECA

Accurate scoring of the CECA is essential for best practice and the Lifespan team can offer comprehensive consultancy at reasonable rates to aid with scoring and interpretation for practice recommendations. This can be on a case-by-case or team group basis. For enquiries or rates, contact lifespantraining@kingston.ac.uk.

Workshops on the CECA

One-day workshops on the CECA are available for prospective or experienced users of the assessment tool. For enquiries or rates, contact lifespantraining@kingston.ac.uk.

Evaluating the use of the CECA

Research services are also available for evaluating the use of the CECA in practice contexts, for example with forensic and prison population, with clinical series and with high-risk adolescents. For enquiries or rates, contact lifespantraining@kingston.ac.uk
